Use this checklist as a guide to the procedural requirements that must be met before the Planning Board will review a site plan application. Below are listed the submissions that constitute a site plan application, and the specifications of form and content for a properly drafted survey and site plan.

For the design criteria by which the Planning Board judges a site plan application, please refer to the Land Development Ordinance of the Borough of Leonia. The Ordinance may be purchased from the Leonia Borough Clerk. For a general description of and timetable for site plan review, see "Overview, Procedures, and Submission Requirements".

Please check the "Yes" box after items submitted, and the "Not Applicable" box after items not required.

G: *Environmental Impact Statement, for residential developments of 100 units or more or non-residential developments with a gross aggregate floor area of 40,000 sq. ft. or more. Consult Planning Board Engineer for format.

The following applications must be approved by the appropriate agencies before the Planning Board will grant site plan approval. To avoid delay submit the requirements of the Planning Board and other agencies concurrently.

H: Bergen County Site Plan approval, for:

- a. Development within 100 feet of a County Road, or within 100 feet of a water course, or larger than one acre, that either requires off-site parking for 5 vehicles or more, or produces direct or indirect surface run off to a County road.
- b. Any development abutting a County Road other than residential structures containing 4 or fewer units.

Applications, instructions and copies of the County Site and Plan Review Resolution are available from the Bergen County Planning Board, Hackensack, NJ 07601.

I: The New Jersey Soil Conservation District Soil Erosion and Sediment Control Plan Certification, for projects that will disturb more than 5,000 sf of surface area of land, except for the construction of a single, detached one-family house (Plan submittal is required — certification may be a condition of approval at the sole discretion of the Planning Board).

In some instances, the approval of certain State agencies is required. Consult the Board Engineer (State Department of Transportation, Environmental Protection Agency etc.).
